

Video production Volunteer role

Can you light, shoot and edit good quality video material?

Over the next few months, we want to produce a series of simple piece-to-camera teaching videos.

We recognise that video can sometimes communicate ideas more effectively than the written word.

In this role you would work to a brief, filming members of our team speaking to camera using our existing written material, and editing to create engaging videos.

In this role you would be generating valuable content that will support our Here: Now: Us training programme in Common Good Thinking and practice.

This is a great opportunity for someone passionate about communicating and helping others to learn.

In this role you will learn about the principles and practice of the Common Good and help others too.

From time to time there will be opportunities to interview people and produce a story.

As part of the team you will have the chance to benefit from other opportunities as they arise.

How to apply

We are a very flexible team and we always like to work relationally. We value our volunteers very highly.

Please do get in touch if you are interested in applying for this volunteer role.

Please write us a letter to help us get to know you, explaining why you want to work with T4CG and what skills and experience you could bring to our friendly team.

Email bryony@togetherforthecommongood.co.uk with your letter, CV and the role you are interested in. Your CV should include relevant voluntary and work experience and two referees.

SKILLS

- Experience in lighting, shooting and editing good quality video content
- Flexibility, willingness to work to work in a team to a brief

EQUIPMENT

- Own equipment desirable (lighting, camera, editing software)

APPLY WITH

- Your CV and covering letter
- Links to examples of recent work

Location: central London mostly, although other locations may arise

Time required: negotiable

Support: working within a team of 3-5 people.

Together for the Common Good (T4CG) is a small charity serving an emerging movement bringing alive the principles of the Common Good and encouraging people of goodwill to work together across their differences.

We work across the churches to build their capacity through training in Common Good Thinking, discussion events, debates and online and offline resources. We are ecumenical, independent and non partisan.

www.togetherforthecommongood.co.uk