CHAIR'S FOREWORD

In a time of profound uncertainty and social fragmentation, the UK faces challenges that call for moral clarity and renewed commitment to the common good. Many churches, too, are struggling with mission drift, influenced by cultural pressures. At Together for the Common Good (T4CG), we believe this is a moment to recover confidence in our shared vocation and to bear witness to a generous vision of solidarity—one that balances rights with responsibilities and restores the bonds of family and community life.

Our work presents the Common Good as a practical framework for hope and action. Rooted in the Catholic Social Thought tradition and drawing from across the Christian family, we equip leaders, churches, schools and charities to navigate this volatile period and to play their part in civic and spiritual renewal.

2024–2025 has been a year of growth and impact. We delivered 28 keynotes, talks and sessions reaching over 4,000 people in person and many more online; our Leaving Egypt podcast expanded to 96 countries with over 25,000 downloads; and our Common Good Schools programme grew by 50%, now serving nine partner schools involving over 2,500 young people. We convened three strategic gatherings, bringing together over 170 leaders from across Christian traditions to deliberate on the big questions of our time. We produced over 40 original resources, responded to over 100 requests for advice—and much more. Across all metrics we have seen significant growth. These achievements were made possible by a small team of just 1.9 FTE, working virtually with minimal overheads, and by the generosity of volunteers, donors and partners who share our vision.

Looking ahead, we will deepen our thought leadership, expand our schools programme—including developing new resources for primary schools—and continue to convene leaders around the critical questions of our time. Demand for this work is increasing, and we remain committed to delivering it sustainably and for the public benefit.

We warmly invite all who share our vision to join us on this journey—through prayer, partnership and support—as we work together for the common good.

The trustees present their annual report and financial statements of the charity for the year ended 31 March 2025. The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting policies set out in note 1 to the accounts and comply with the charity's Memorandum and Articles of Association, the Charities Act 2011 and Accounting and Reporting by Charities: Statement of Recommended Practice applicable to charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland published on 1/01/2019.

Overview

Together for the Common Good (T4CG) is a small independent UK-based Christian charity dedicated to spiritual and civic renewal.

Our work draws from across the Christian traditions and from the insights of Catholic Social Thought. We call this 'common good thinking'. We believe it holds the key to addressing many of the challenges facing society and our churches today. It can help to ignite passion, reimagine vocation and encourage people to join in the reweaving of our broken social fabric. It starts by building relationships.

Our activities were focused through following integrated strands:

1. Providing thought leadership through keynotes, talks, sessions, newsletter, online content, advisory roles and relationship building, equipping leaders with common good thinking to enable them better to navigate this period of instability
2. Producing resources to help churches discern their unique vocation for the common good
3. Convening public talks and events for leaders addressing big issues through the lens of the common good
4. Equipping schools to be a force for the common good in the neighbourhood

Our guiding principle: the Common Good

The Common Good is an ancient idea shared by many traditions. Our understanding has its roots in the Jewish and Christian traditions, reflected in Scripture:

“Seek the welfare of the city where I have sent you... for in its welfare you will find your welfare.” Jeremiah 29:7

We define the Common Good as follows:

The shared life of a society in which everyone can flourish - as we act together in different ways that all contribute towards that goal, enabled by social conditions that mean every single person can participate.

We create these conditions and pursue that goal by working together across our differences, each of us taking responsibility, according to our calling and ability.

REVIEW OF 2024-25

This report covers the 12 months to 31 March 2025.

1. Thought Leadership

Providing thought leadership through keynotes, sessions, newsletter, online content, advisory roles and relationship building, equipping leaders with common good thinking to enable them better to navigate this volatile moment.

Talks and sessions, articles and interviews

This year we delivered 28 keynotes, interviews and sessions – reaching an in-person audience of at least 4,200 and a much larger audience online. We were invited to contribute content for a variety of settings. Examples include:

Trinity Forum London, TWR Radio, Pastoral Review, Caritas Social Action Network, Diocese of Clifton, Divine Renovation, Methodist Church of Great Britain, The Tablet, the Catholic Union of Great Britain, Community Organisers, Crucible Magazine, Songs of Praise, Margaret Beaufort Institute of Theology, The Salvation Army, Faith in Labour, EducareM, Radio Maria, Word on Fire Ministries, East Brighton Parish, and others.

T4CG Newsletter

The T4CG Newsletter goes to over 2,500 subscribers, a 25% increase on the previous year. During the year, 6 editions were published, each featuring originally commissioned content, talks, guest articles, latest podcast episodes, updates about our Common Good Schools programme, plus recommended books and selected articles on current affairs.

New online content

We published over 40 online resources which were disseminated widely and added to the T4CG website resource. This included editorial reflections, commissioned stories and essays by leading thinkers and grassroots practitioners, and resources for leaders and schools. Some of these resources were republished by third parties.

Advisory roles

During this period, we responded to at least 100 requests from a range of organisations and individuals, including leaders, churches, academics, dioceses, charities, festivals and networks. We gave advice, made verbal and written contributions and provided coaching on a one-to-one basis and in groups. In addition, our director contributed a chapter to a book on the anniversary of the Faith in the City report. She also fulfilled several formal advisory roles, including serving as a trustee of the Common Good Foundation, and as a member of Caritas Social Action Network's Reference Group.

Strategic relationships

As a matter of course, our work is relational in character. The T4CG network consists of an informal, growing coalition of many organisations and leaders across the Christian traditions and beyond. This year, we built new relationships and facilitated strategic introductions, and all activities were delivered through partnerships, some named in this report.

2. Resources

Producing resources to help churches discern their unique vocation for the common good

Leaving Egypt Podcast

- This year we marked the second year of our Leaving Egypt podcast. The podcast focuses on what it means to be God's people in an age of unravelling and is co-hosted by T4CG's director Jenny Sinclair along with Canadian missional leader and theologian Alan Roxburgh. Leaving Egypt's fortnightly episodes engage special guests who help to read the signs of the times and share grassroots stories of hope.
- 21 episodes were produced during the year.
- The podcast this year increased its reach from 64 to 96 countries and was received with enthusiasm, with a cumulative total of 25.8K downloads.
- This year, local churchgoers and in particular church leaders commented that they valued the podcast as a resource; they were inspired and equipped better to fulfil their vocation for the common good in their local areas.
- In addition, four zoom forums were held for listeners to engage with guests.

Misc projects

At any given time, T4CG is open to discuss potential projects and creative ideas, which if not directly funded are not listed here. This year, one project – a congregational project to develop awareness of “God’s Economy” was funded in its initial stages, but not then pursued when funders’ circumstances changed.

3. Public talks and events

Convening public talks and events for leaders addressing the critical issues of our time through the lens of the common good.

T4CG holds events from time to time to inform and inspire Christians of all traditions to play their part in spiritual and civic renewal, each exploring a focused challenge around a critical issue. T4CG events serve to generate in-person, strategic relationships across the Christian traditions and uniquely, enabling leaders to deliberate together through the framework of Catholic social thought. Each event is simultaneously livestreamed and the recording later released as a podcast on the T4CG podcast channel, enabling the content to be made available for a wider audience and for the public benefit.

As the country faced profound social and political change and increasing inequality, we chose to focus our events in 2024-2025 on two key themes:

1. The Future of Christian Social Action – this was the focus for two events, each examining mission drift in the church-based charity sector. Examining established patterns and practices, we explored why well-intentioned charitable initiatives have become disconnected from justice, deepened dependency and have drifted in a secular direction. Our purpose was to open up an honest conversation about impact, power and authentic Christian witness, to challenge leaders in the sector and to identify practical steps to correct the drift:
 - 1.1. Grace, Truth and the Common Good the Future of Christian Social Action was a lecture commissioned by T4CG from Jon Kuhrt, CEO of Hope into Action. Held in-person, simultaneously livestreamed and later released as a podcast, the lecture was given before a live, invited audience of 70 church and charity leaders from across the Christian traditions. Following the lecture, a private roundtable dinner was held for a group of 30 leaders convened to deliberate together on the themes raised.
 - 1.2. The Advent Retreat followed the above event. We convened 36 leading Christian charity CEOs and church leaders to discern these themes of mission drift. The retreat enabled deep communal reflection in the format of a one day retreat using the methodology of Conversation in the Spirit. The outcomes of the retreat and a call to action were shared in a report which was widely distributed.
2. Staying Human – this was the focus of a new series of public talks launched to address how to stay human in this rapidly unfolding period of epochal change. In the context of cultural confusion, fragmentation, accelerating AI, the breakdown of trust, extreme inequality and loss of agency amidst the intensification of money and state power, we began by asking “what does it mean to be human?” and “how can we restore our common life?” To help our pool of leaders address this, we commissioned the first lecture, Reimagining the Spirit of the Commons from Professor Luke Bretherton.

Again, this lecture event was held in-person, simultaneously livestreamed and later released as a podcast. It was given before a live, invited audience of 70 church and charity leaders from across the Christian traditions. Following the lecture, a private roundtable dinner was held for a group of 30 leaders convened to deliberate together on the themes raised.

4. Schools

Equipping schools to be a force for the common good in the neighbourhood.

Common Good Schools programme

- Our young people are facing a more confused and uncertain future than ever before. It is vital that they are formed with the skills to thrive in this environment.
- T4CG's Common Good Schools enables young people and schools to play their part in spiritual and civic renewal. The programme fosters character development and teaches the principles of common good thinking in practice and cultivates a respect for others, the importance of good relationships, while demonstrating good stewardship and valuing community.
- Delivered through a train-the-trainer model and through classroom-based learning and community-based experience, the 10-week programme is designed for 11-16s in school and youth settings.
- Schools that join the Common Good Schools programme become our partners.

Serving secondary schools

- This year the programme was delivered in 9 partner schools and youth settings (Key Stage 3/4), an increase of 50% on the previous year.
- We delivered two CPD sessions for our partner schools' teachers to deepen their knowledge of Catholic social teaching beyond the course programme.
- The number of subscribers for the monthly Common Good Schools Newsletter grew by 143% to 258. The newsletter continued to serve our partner schools' teachers and chaplains as well as others interested in how a school can be a force for the common good in the neighbourhood.

Developing a new resource for primary schools

- This year we carried out a survey among primary head teachers to research how a new resource for Key Stage 2 should be designed. We convened a working group of 20 primary school leaders to assist with the development of this new resource.

Resourcing the wider education community

- We delivered bespoke workshops, talks and sessions for dioceses, multi academy trusts, festivals and strategic head teacher and chaplains training programmes. We worked hard to respond to an increasing number of invitations from across the UK, as well as approaches from Sweden and Italy. We published articles in education magazines and online platforms.
- Further, we created free resources for schools - for the General Election, for Advent and Lent, and collected download data to help us monitor traction. We also held a common good themed Christmas card competition.
- Our work is relational in nature. and we forge strategic relationships with organisations who share our vision. New strategic partners this year include dioceses, archdioceses and multi academy trusts and Christian networks.

Communications

This year's communications strategy continued to focus on developing T4CG's thought leadership profile among Christian networks and growing our audiences.

Attention was devoted to promoting the unique content and messaging outlined in the strands of work above – disseminating our director's talks, online stories, essays and newsletter, promoting our Leaving Egypt podcast, our public lectures and our schools programme.

Press releases were disseminated to promote our public talks.

Weekly social media postings on Twitter/X, LinkedIn, Instagram and Facebook resulted in growth across all metrics.

In addition, strategic plans were put in place to relocate the T4CG Newsletter from Mailchimp to Substack, to be actioned in the next financial year.

Throughout, the T4CG website was updated with our original content, maintaining a unique online resource for the public benefit.

Strategy, Infrastructure and Sustainability

We continued to follow the general direction of our 2022 Strategic Review, making adaptations as required. Our risk assessment practice was ongoing throughout the period and strategic decisions were taken in order to achieve optimum leverage of our small staff team.

Demand for this work is increasing and our resources are severely overstretched. At only 1.9 FTE (director 1.0 FTE, schools 0.4FTE, comms 0.2 FTE, admin 0.3 FTE), our team achieves far more than would be expected of such a small charity, thanks to partnership working, and associates giving their time pro bono. Working remotely means there are no office costs.

Securing sustainable funding is still proving elusive. We have continued to pursue a major gifts strategy and made progress in developing our minor revenue streams such as podcast subscriptions, earned income, honoraria, fees and regular donations. However, although demand for T4CG's work is growing, fundraising conditions are increasingly challenging.

Delivering public benefit

In planning our activities this year, the trustees have given consideration to the duties set out in section 17(5) of the Charities Act 2011 to have due regard for public benefit guidance published by the Charity Commission.

Objects

The object of the CIO is the furtherance for the public benefit of the following purposes in a manner which promotes moral and ethical principles based on the notions of human dignity, mutual respect and understanding, honesty and fairness and civic responsibility:

1. promoting religious harmony and equality and diversity
2. promoting community capacity building in socially or economically disadvantaged communities
3. relieving poverty by undertaking or supporting research into inequality and other factors that contribute to poverty and the most appropriate ways to mitigate these.

The trustees are confident that T4CG's aims and objectives fulfil the criteria. The trustees do not anticipate any change in the future to this operational approach.

Our approach

T4CG's primary aims are to tackle social and economic disadvantage and social fragmentation, and we do this in ways set out earlier in this document. We do this by calling people of goodwill to fulfil their vocational responsibility, put Common Good principles into practice where they live and work, to build relationships and work together across their differences.

We believe the church has a legitimate, distinctive part to play and that revitalising its vocation is critical for civic and spiritual renewal. We work mainly across the Christian traditions but also with people and organisations of other faiths and non-religious backgrounds. Beneficiaries are not restricted by faith, gender, ethnic origin, disability, age or sexual orientation.

Planning for 2025-26

2024-2025 is set to be another year of instability with indications pointing to a further deterioration in social trust. This only strengthens our dedication to civic and spiritual renewal and the urgency of promoting the common good. We will pursue this by focusing our influence in the following ways:

Using Catholic Social Thought as a framework we will continue to help people read the signs of the times, to navigate well and discern their unique vocation for the common good.

Across all our work we will build confidence in common good thinking amongst Christian leaders by working across traditions. To achieve this, we will work with our longstanding partners and seek to build relationships with new partners who share our vision.

- We will serve leaders across churches, Christian charities, organisations and schools with talks and bespoke sessions, and as capacity allows, respond to their requests for advice, contribute to their projects, and fulfil formal and informal advisory roles.
- We will serve a broad audience across the Christian traditions with original high quality content by commissioning and producing stories, essays and resources. We will disseminate this content via the T4CG website, the T4CG Substack, the T4CG Newsletter and across our social media platforms.
- We will serve the local church, church leaders and ordinary Christians through fortnightly episodes of the Leaving Egypt podcast in partnership with Alan Roxburgh and build the community of Christian leaders around the podcast.
- We will serve strategic Christian leaders through public talks and events on the critical questions of our time. Through our hybrid model we will convene invitation-only, in-person thought-leadership events and round tables to enable peer to peer deliberation and relationship building. Via livestream and via our podcast platform we will deliver this content to a wider audience.
- We will train more secondary schools to run our Common Good Schools programme and continue to support our partner schools with advice and CPD sessions.
- We will develop a new Common Good Schools resource for primary schools.
- We will endeavour to meet growing demand from the wider education community for keynotes, talks and sessions.
- We will communicate this work for the public benefit and extend our audiences via our social media platforms and the T4CG website. We will move the T4CG newsletter from Mailchimp to Substack platform and develop a community of subscribers.
- In 2024-2025 it is our aspiration to secure sufficient funding for this work through a mix of major gifts, earned income and regular donations.

Structure, governance and management

T4CG is a creative initiative which has evolved organically and as such its character is unique. At the same time, T4CG fulfils conventional governance obligations.

Governing documents

T4CG is a CIO registered with the Charity Commission. It is governed by its Constitution of 14 June 2016 which was registered by the Charity Commission on 16 March 2017. The charity number is 1172113. The CIO's area of activity is primarily, but not exclusively, the UK.

Trustees

Two new trustees joined in this period - Daisy Inglese and Fr Michael Hall.

Trustees are identified through existing networks and advertising. They are selected and appointed by the Board. In selecting trustees, the Board pays regard to the balance of skills and experience required, the need for capacity to develop the charity, the need for continuity, and the beneficiaries the charity seeks to serve. There is a trustee induction programme in place and a rolling programme of recruitment. The trustees serve on sub-committees as needed and report to the main Board.

Management and organisational structure

Responsibility for the implementation of strategy and planning was delegated to the management team, with day-to-day management delegated to the founder director.

Capacity was significantly boosted by volunteers and associates contributing on a pro bono basis, both individually and via working groups convened and coordinated by the staff team to address different strands of the work. Professional assistance was retained where required.

Formal reporting to the Trustee Board took place four times during the year, with additional interim updates.

Risk management

The trustees have conducted a review of the major risks to which the charity is exposed. These risks are monitored throughout the year and updated annually. A risk register is used to support this. Where appropriate, systems or procedures have been established to mitigate the risks the charity faces, and the management of risks are owned by the appropriate personnel. Different risks are assessed by the most appropriate people: the full Board, the trustee sub-committees, and the staff team. Regardless of who manages the risk, all risks are reported to the full Board, with key risks assessed at each meeting.

Pro bono support, volunteers and help in kind

T4CG achieves more than would be expected of a charity of its size thanks to strong pro bono support, augmenting T4CG's small staff team, which this year was 1.9 FTE.

During 2024-2025, T4CG benefited from at least 30 people generously contributing in practical ways to different areas of our work.

We are grateful to all who contributed this year:

- T4CG's trustees devoted time in addition to their board responsibilities.
- Members of our staff team who devoted time in addition to paid hours.
- Annette McBride provided voluntary admin support for the team.
- Rob Duncan provided voluntary admin support for Leaving Egypt.
- Charles Wookey advised on fundraising strategy.
- Members of our informal fundraising advisory group.
- Members of our informal Common Good Schools advisory group.
- Our associate thinkers and practitioners - all our stories, essays and lectures were contributed on a pro bono basis.
- Fr Chris Vipers hosted our board meetings at St Mary Moorfields, London.
- The Vicariate for Education at Hinsley Hall in Leeds hosted our away days.

T4CG punches above its weight due to a wide range of active working relationships. It is impossible to name all the organisations and individuals involved, but some appear in this report. Apologies for any oversights.

Sincere thanks to those who generously gave strategic advice, to all those friends of T4CG praying for the work and those providing moral support.

Financial Review

The achievements of 2024-25 have been made possible thanks to a number of trusts and individual donors whose generous support funded key projects and the salaries of T4CG's key officers.

Review of the charity's financial position at the end of the period

During the year to 31 March 2025, T4CG's total income amounted to £118,398 and expenditure came to £114,514.

There was a surplus on unrestricted funds of £3,804. The restricted fund income of £18,199 was all spent in the year.

Net assets at 31 March 2025 were £48,597.

In 2024-25, T4CG's work was made possible by a range of trusts, individual gifts and a small number of committed regular individual donors. We are grateful to all those who have supported our work. In particular we appreciate sponsorship of our events by CCLA, a longstanding partner and the UK's leading sustainability fund manager for charities, faith and public sector organisations. We also acknowledge sponsorship from Church Urban Fund and Caritas Westminster for one of our events.

Going concern

See note 1.2 on page 18.

Reserves policy

The trustees' policy on reserves is to hold sufficient funds to cover salaries and the other repeat operating costs of the charity for a minimum of six months to ensure that the charity is not at risk in the event that expected income does not materialise or is delayed. The unrestricted reserves of £48,597 at 31 March 2025 fell short of that target but it was achieved again subsequent to the end of the financial year.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S REPORT TO THE TRUSTEES OF TOGETHER FOR THE COMMON GOOD

I report to the trustees on my examination of the financial statements of Together for the Common Good (the charity) for the year ended 31 March 2025, which are set out on pages 16 to 24.

RESPONSIBILITIES AND BASIS OF REPORT

As the trustees of the charity, you are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the requirements of the Charities Act 2011 (the 2011 Act).

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's financial statements carried out under section 145 of the 2011 Act, and in carrying out my examination, I have followed all the applicable Directions given by the Charity Commission under section 145 (5)(b) of the 2011 Act.

An independent examination does not involve gathering all the evidence that would be required in an audit and consequently does not cover all the matters that an auditor considers in giving their opinion on the financial statements. The planning and conduct of an audit goes beyond the limited assurance that an independent examination can provide. Consequently, I express no opinion as to whether the financial statements present a 'true and fair view' and my report is limited to those specific matters set out in the independent examiner's statement.

INDEPENDENT EXAMINER'S STATEMENT

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no material matters have come to my attention, in connection with the examination, giving me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect:

- accounting records were not kept in respect of the charity as required by section 130 of the 2011 Act; or
- the financial statements do not accord with those records; or
- the financial statements do not comply with the applicable requirements concerning the form and content of financial statements set out in the Charities (Accounts and Reports) Regulations 2008, other than any requirement that the financial statements give a 'true and fair view', which is not a matter considered as part of an independent examination.

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the financial statements to be reached.

TOGETHER FOR THE COMMON GOOD

Notes to the unaudited financial statements

Year ended 31st March 2025

Note 1 Basis of preparation

1.1 Basis of accounting

These accounts have been prepared under the historical cost convention with items recognised at cost or transaction value unless otherwise stated in the relevant note(s) to these accounts.

The accounts have been prepared in accordance with:

- the Statement of Recommended Practice: Accounting and Reporting by Charities preparing their accounts in accordance with the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102) issued on 16 July 2014; and with
- the Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the United Kingdom and Republic of Ireland (FRS 102)
- and with the Charities Act 2011.

The charity constitutes a public benefit entity as defined by FRS 102.

1.2 Going concern

The charity relies on grant and donation income to meet a high proportion of its expenses.

We have been successful in obtaining substantial multi-year donation commitments from private supporters and we are continuing to work to expand this group.

A cash flow forecast prepared for trustees shortly before the approval of these financial statements confirmed that funds received since the end of the accounting period, taken together with confirmed donations not yet received and firm commitments from donors, will be sufficient to maintain the current level of activity for the full twelve months from the date of signature of the report.

The trustees have a strict policy that no expenditure commitments will be made that exceed available resources.

The trustees are therefore satisfied that it is appropriate to prepare the accounts on a going concern basis.

1.3 Changes of accounting policy

The accounts present a true and fair view and the accounting policies adopted are those outlined in this note 1. The policies are the same as those applied in the previous period.

1.4 Changes to accounting estimates

No changes to accounting estimates have occurred in the reporting period (3.46 FRS 102 SORP).

Note 2

Accounting policies

2.1 INCOME

The following accounting policies have been applied by the charity:

Recognition of income	These are included in the Statement of Financial Activities (SoFA) when: <ul style="list-style-type: none">· the charity becomes entitled to the resources;· it is more likely than not that the trustees will receive the resources; and· the monetary value can be measured with sufficient reliability.
Offsetting	There has been no offsetting of assets and liabilities, or income and expenses, unless required or permitted by the FRS 102 SORP or FRS 102.
Grants and donations	Grants and donations are only included in the SoFA when the general income recognition criteria are met (5.10 to 5.12 FRS102 SORP).
Legacies	Legacies are included in the SOFA when receipt is probable, that is, when there has been grant of probate, the executors have established that there are sufficient assets in the estate and any conditions attached to the legacy are either within the control of the charity or have been met.
Tax reclaims on donations and gifts	Gift Aid receivable is included in income when there is a valid declaration from the donor. Any Gift Aid amount recovered on a donation is considered to be part of that gift and is treated as an addition to the same fund as the initial donation unless the donor or the terms of the appeal have specified otherwise.
Contractual income	This is only included in the SoFA once the charity has provided the related goods or services or met the performance related conditions.
Donated goods	Donated goods are measured at fair value (the amount for which the asset could be exchanged) unless impractical to do so. Goods donated for on-going use by the charity are recognised as tangible fixed assets and included in the SoFA as incoming resources when receivable. Gifts in kind for use by the charity are included in the SoFA as income from donations when receivable.
Volunteer help	The value of any voluntary help received is not included in the accounts but is described in the trustees' annual report.
Donated services and facilities	Donated services and facilities are included in the SOFA when received at the value of the gift to the charity provided the value of the gift can be measured reliably. Donated services and facilities that are consumed immediately are recognised as income with an equivalent amount recognised as an expense under the appropriate heading in the SOFA.

2.2 EXPENDITURE AND LIABILITIES

Liability recognition	Liabilities are recognised where it is more likely than not that there is a legal or constructive obligation committing the charity to pay out resources and the amount of the obligation can be measured with reasonable certainty.
Governance costs	Governance costs comprise all costs involving public accountability of the charity and its compliance with regulation and good practice.
Support costs	Support costs include central functions and have been allocated to activity cost categories on a basis consistent with the use of resources, e.g. allocating staff costs by the time spent and other costs by their usage.
Redundancy cost	The charity made no redundancy payments during the reporting period.
Provisions for liabilities	A liability is measured on recognition at its historical cost and then subsequently measured at the best estimate of the amount required to settle the obligation at the reporting date.
Basic financial instruments	The charity accounts for basic financial instruments on initial recognition as per paragraph 10.7 FRS102 SORP. Subsequent measurement is as per paragraphs 11.17 to 11.19, FRS102 SORP.

2.3 ASSETS

Tangible fixed assets for use by charity	Fixed assets are capitalised if they can be used for more than one year and cost at least £1,000. The Charity had no fixed assets during the reporting period.
Debtors	Debtors (including trade debtors and loans receivable) are measured on initial recognition at settlement amount after any trade discounts or amount advanced by the charity. Subsequently, they are measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be received.
